Disasters Costly for Red Cross

Fire and flood, two constant hazards in the Los Angeles area, keep the Red Cross disaster service on 24-hour alert and in the last six years have cost Red Cross here $212,932.41, according to Southern Regional Campaign Chairman R. P. Corlew.

"Mass care and individual assistance went to 823 families right here in the greater Los Angeles area who appealed to Red Cross for aid," declared the 1962 fund chairman.

RAIN STORMS of the past month made it necessary to open four shelters in Los Angeles County and have required assistance amounting to approximately $11,500 to rehabilitate 20 families who suffered flood damage.

"Emergency disaster services such as those provided only by Red Cross are essential in all areas and needed by all economic groups," explained Corlew as he reported that the annual March Red Cross campaign is now in high gear.

The Red Cross is designated by terms of its charter from the United States government as the official emergency relief organization in time of disaster.

"HOWEVER, Red Cross receives no government funds to carry on its work," Corlew said. "All funds expended following a disaster by Red Cross come from contributions at the time and during the March fund drive."

Reminding local residents of the quotas established for them, Corlew pointed out that Torrance has been asked to raise $11,400; Lomita and Harbor City, $1,000; Gardena, $9,100; Palos Verdes, $6,700; San Pedro, $12,300; and Wilmington, $7,100.

South High Ends Search For Actors

South High School ended a week of tryouts for the 1962 All-School Play, "Time Out for Ginger," by Ronald Alexander. The three-act Broadway runner was chosen by South's two Thespian sponsors, Marlin Muse and Von Hershey. Nearly 200 students tried out for the 10 parts.

Among the finalists were Linda Addington and Val Shidler double cast to play the leading part, Ginger, with Bonnie Housley playing the mother, and Richard Powers playing the father. Ed Cherrier and Steve Bailey play the boy-friends, Tommy and Eddie.

Ginger's sisters are played by Michelle Sullivan and Vikke Hoffman. Winkie Gilbert plays the maid with Don Hoppe playing the part of the principal and Pierre Hathaway playing the banker.

The play concerns the plight of a small-town banker when his youngest of three daughters tries out for and makes the football team. With everyone against him he still maintains that "everyone should be allowed to do what they want to do."

Open House Scheduled By Nursery

Open House, scheduled for Sunday, April 8, is being planned by the members of Torrance Cooperative Nursery School, the president of the parents' group, William Campillo, announced yesterday. The purpose of the event is to acquaint prospective members with the facilities and organization of the parent cooperative and to allow the alumni of the school to return to see the progress that has been made during its 10 years of operation.

Campillo also announced that committee chairmen have been appointed for the event. Mrs. Richard Rosborough as hospitality chairman will plan the day. Mrs. Frederick Stone will head the membership drive and Mrs. William Susoeff will be publicity chairman.

The non-profit preschool is under the auspices of the Torrance Adult Education office and is located at 4559 V. 182nd St., Torrance.

The public is invited to inquire by calling Mrs. Frederick Stone, FR 5-7128.
